

Domains of Social Responsibility for AI

Definitions of Social Responsibility Domains for AI

1. Crisis Response - Specific crisis- related issues dealing with natural and man made disasters.
2. Economic Empowerment – Providing access to monetary resources and opportunities, including employment, skills development and market information highlighting vulnerable areas/individuals.
3. Educational Challenges – This includes optimizing student accomplishments and enhancing teacher productivities.
4. Environmental Challenges – These include sustaining biodiversity and combining natural resource reduction, population and climate change.
5. Equality and Inclusion - Addressing equal opportunity, inclusion, and self-determination challenges such as decreasing or eradicating biases on race, sexual orientation, religion, citizenship and disabilities.
6. Health and Hunger – Addressing health and hunger challenges, including early stage diagnosis and optimized food distribution on areas where there is insufficiency or famine.
7. Information Verification and Validation – the challenge of facilitating provision, validation, and recommendation of help, valuable and reliable information to all. (This domain differs from all the rest, as it focuses on filtering or manipulating content which could mislead or construe through new channels of social media.)
8. Infrastructure Management – Infrastructure concerns that could provide public good in the categories of energy, water and waste management, transportation, real estate and urban development.
9. Public and Social Sector Management – Initiatives that are connected to the effectiveness of management of public and social sector entities, including robust institutions, transparency, and financial management.
10. Security and Justice – Preventing crime within society – both from corruption and other physical hazards. Including tracing criminals and prejudice of police forces.

Checklist on AI Projects

- Is the social problem clearly defined?
- Can it be technically translated to describe the problem?
- Do you have the data defined? Is it available for access?
- How is the quality of data, is there enough?
- Can stakeholders be identified?